Intersections website is published and maintained by Klesis Institute. Klesis is a division of CommAsia Australia Pty Ltd (ACN 097 136 171 ABN 53 702 023 602), a company incorporated in Australia and based in Melbourne.

Klesis respects your privacy. Like many other websites, we collect aggregate information on traffic to our website, including which pages visitors access. This information is used for internal review only, to improve the content of our website and our online services.

We may also obtain personal information from you by email or through other communications between you and us. Once any personal information comes into our possession, we take reasonable steps to protect that information from misuse and loss, and from unauthorised access, modification or disclosure. We use several mechanisms to protect the security and integrity of your personal information. Unfortunately, no data transmission over the web can be guaranteed as completely secure. So while we strive to protect such information, we cannot ensure or warrant the security of any information you transmit to us, and you thus do so at your own risk.

We use personal information that we collect through our website, email or through other communications between you and us for the main purpose(s) for which we collect it or for related purposes that you may reasonably expect. This includes providing you with the goods and services you requested; notifying you of new products or services which may be of interest to you; undertaking research, planning, product development, risk management, and operating and administering our website - undertaken by Klesis or third party service providers.

If you wish to request access to any personal information that we hold about you as a result of the information collection practices outlined in this Privacy Notice, please contact us. Do provide as much detail as possible about the information you seek in order to help us retrieve it. Please note that we may charge an access fee to cover our costs. All privacy inquiries should be addressed to:
